THE NATIONAL BANK.

If we except the rise in the value of the ten thousand paper dollar a league estancia lands, there is nothing in the country to compare with the growth of the National Bank.

In a single year it has risen from a struggling, insignificant, joint-stock concern to be the great Bank of the Nation, the Bank of the Government, and the Bank of the whole of the Interior. The figures of its balance-sheet, just published, reveal a development which no one in the Plate anticipated, and which, incontestibly, proves that the institution has met one of the greatest wants of the country. Take any single item in this balance-sheet and compare it with the figures, not of five years but of only one year ago, and one can judge of the great leviathan institution that we are raising up, and which is breathing new life, new energy and new enterprise into the farthest corner of the Republic.

In March, 1883, its deposits were ten millions, to-day they are fourteen.

In March, 1883, its circulation was 6,230,000, to-day it is 19,546,000!

In March, 1883, its discounts and loans were twenty millions, to-day they reach forty millions.

The profits of this bank in the first three months of the present year amount to 979,571, and, marching as it is, we estimate its profits for the current year not at four millions, which is the basis the present quarter's earnings afford, but at something over five millions of National dollars.

The sum total of its bad or doubtful debts, or protested bills, is but six hundred thousand National dollars, which, instead of increasing, is steadily diminishing, due to the excellent management of the Board of Directors, by writing off so much of these accounts every half-year.

The Government, as the largest shareholder, preserves, of course, the greatest interest in the prosperity and success of the Bank. It gave the Bank in Bonds eight millions. The interest and amortization on these bonds the Bank has met out of its profits, and over and above that payment there was still a balance in favor of the Government, as a simple shareholder, for its share of profits of last year, of 211,141 National dollars. Thus we find the profits of the Bank swelling the revenue of the country, whilst its capital, by a liberal yet discreet system of discounts and advances, is spreading prosperity throughout the whole Republic, and fomenting trade, industry and agriculture in every province.

Four calls on the new shares are made for this year; the first matured in March, 10 per cent., and not a single quota of that call was unpaid, which shows the position and standing of the new shareholders. Three more calls on the new shares have to be met this year, amounting to 1½ million of patacons, which will still further strengthen the position and reserve of the Bank.

No wonder that the shares of this splendidly prosperous Bank are marching on to 100 premium, which is the premium General Roca thinks they will command before his term of office expires.

There can be little doubt that one of the most powerful elements upon which the Government counts is this Bank. Without it our Government could not carry on the same progressive administration as that which has marked the Roca Cabinet since it took office. The Bank of England in Great Britain and Ireland is not a bit more important there than is this grand National Bank at present in the River Plate.

The march of the Bank is so rapid, and its prosperity so remarkably great, that it behoves the President and Directors to be all the more cautious, as really its success dazzles us, and we begin to feel nervous lest it go ahead too fast. We note that last month its circulation increased 2,700,000 National dollars. This is simply tremendous, and we take the liberty of suggesting to the Board that half a million a month for a market such as ours would seem to be a very safe figure to limit the increased issue.

However, it must be borne in mind that the National Bank has to supply the whole Interior with money, and that the whole up-country was literally starving and idle until General Roca took office.

Again, the Bank has 2½ millions of patacons gold coming out to the country in gold bars, and this will strengthen the specie reserve.

We salute Dr. Pacheco, the President of the Bank, with our warmest congratulatione on a financial success unexampled in the Plate.

The Pomona's Mails.

Patagones, April 10th.

The arrival of the fine Platense steamer Pomona created an unusual stir and bustle in the old town of Carmen de Patagones; the river was crowded with vessels, two ocean steamers, several barques, three small steamers and a fair number of smaller craft. The oldest Patagonians do not remember a period of such activity, and it is amusing to witness how the townspeople stare and look round at the many new faces in the plaza and streets. At first the new comers found the town dreary and lonely, and the inhabitants cold and distant; but this state of affairs could not continue long, and a grand ball was got up on board the Pomona to rub people together. As the news spread that all the officers on board the Pomona were exceedingly good-looking Frenchmen, there was a rush to the steamer, where the saloon had undergone a metamorphosis of a most pleasing description; chairs, tables, irrepressible bottles and glasses had disappeared and the sofas were tenanted by about thirty charming Patagonian belles, some clad in the choicest Parisian toilettes of the day, others more enticing "simplex inunditis" in Arcadian taste and modesty. The officers, in full uniform, both of the vessel and garrison, gave a special charm of glitter and contrast to the surroundings; the Frenchmen were the favourites with the ladies. General Winter, the popular and energetic Governor, attended with staff, and on light fantastic toe in the mazes of the waltz forgot both Indian and State. Capt. Simonnet of the Pomona, Mr. Revallon his second, the comisarios Malherbe, Williams, and a score of others danced till the peep of day, and but for the departure of the elders the young people would have continued the fun till breakfast hour. The fact of the matter is that the Pomona means a new era in these parts; far superior in accommodation for passengers to all other steamers trading with the South, her advent means a further impulse to affairs in this valley. Families can now rely on comforts and excellent service in the voyage from Patagones to Buenos Aires and vice-versa. Those who have travelled by land or made the voyage by sea and appreciate the comforts and service of a first class steamer, like the Pomona; she left Patagones to-day crowded with passengers, but with little cargo, owing to the advanced stage of the season. The La Platense Company have secured the passenger traffic of the South, and it is to be hoped that the spurt given will continue increasing every month. The Patagonese are in great spirits, and hope that Mr Christophersen's steamers will continue long on the Southern route.

In the first week of April a terrible hurricane was felt all along the coast. The S.E. gale was the strongest felt since the falling to pieces of the American ship Admiral. The force of the hurricane was such that the wet sand and large pebbles were whirled about in the camp, driving sheep and cattle in all directions and inflicting injuries on people gathering animals outside. The tide was exceedingly high, and the water receded only 24 hours afterwards. The sea ran mountains high, and the roar of the breakers on the Rio Negro bar could be heard miles away.

On Good Friday a melancholy accident occurred in the Viedma Church. Some ornaments caught fire, everything inside was burned, the roof fell in, and the walls, steeples, and a statue of the Blessed Virgin only remain. General Winter and Colonel Bernal are doing their utmost to rebuild the edifice.

The Governor has granted the old fort to the Salesian priests for the construction of a large college.

Cattle and sheep in this valley have increased in such numbers that large herds and flocks are being daily sent up the valley to stock new camps. All the North side of the river is stocked, and the estancias on the South side now stretch to about 100 leagues from the mouth of the river. Camps here have suffered from a very protracted drought. Sheep died last year—a very rare occurrence here—but the 'rodeos' and flocks are fat and sleek at present. Heavy rains have fallen, and the camps are coming round very rapidly. New sheepfarms and estancias are being started every day, and before long the triangle will be invaded by the increase of our herds and flocks.

Lieut.-Col Pedro Diez Arenas died at his post at Lake Nahuel Huapi, in January. Deceased entered the army when a boy, fought in Paraguay, and was much liked by his fellow-officers for his dashing spirit and generosity. He began negotiations with King Shaihueque and no doubt would have succeeded in his persevering attempts to reconcile the savage chief, if death had not cut him short in his career at the early age of thirty.

A Custom House office has been established in Viedma by Mr Diego Arenas of the Revenue office; although there is not much business doing, the office meets a long felt want. Viedma is going ahead rapidly under the energetic aegis of General Winter, who is manipulating a very large broom; new houses, enclosures and 'chacras' are springing up; the Government House is a fine building, and affairs are now in a progressive groove. All settlers on the North and South side of the river hope that General Winter will hold his post as Governor and Commander-in-chief of the Line for years to come. If the Governor carries out his plans, this valley will become one of the wealthiest parts of the Republic; what is much wanted in these parts is money, credit, capital. We want branches of the National and Provincial Banks; money is the great hiatus of the moment. Payments here are made in sheep, cattle and bricks.

Commander Rivadavia, of the gunboat Constitución, has completed the surveys and buoying of San Blas Harbour. The commander has surveyed every part of the bay. After two years' hard labour he has completed the work and has discovered a new channel not marked on Fitz Roy's Chart; it has been christened "Rivadavia Channel." It has a minimum depth of four fathoms in low water. Four buoys have been placed along this channel, which is wide and easy of access. A large stone tower has been erected on Rubia Point, known as Cerro del Palo. The tower is painted white and black, can be seen from a distance of 1½ miles, and shews the entrance into the harbour. The gallant commander well deserves promotion for his services. When the extent of his great industry is known and his new chart is published, the Argentine navy may be proud of its sailor and grandson of the immortal Rivadavia.

Surveyor Cascallares has arrived. He has been welcomed with open arms by all, and it is hoped that the lands of this section will be finally measured.

Commander Wilson, of the Rio Nanquen steamer, has also arrived. His advent throws new life into Patagonian life, as he is the most popular fellow between this and Cape Horn.

The Buffon's Mails.

London, March 22.

No military movements of any importance are reported from the Eastern Soudan. An Egyptian soldier who was captured by Osman at Tokhar has arrived at Suakim, and reported that Osman has not more than 200 men with him, but that he has declared his intention to oppose the opening of the Berber road at any cost. The Arab chief is drawing supplies from the large stores of grain which General Graham humanely left undisturbed at Tokhar. When this became known a detachment of cavalry was sent out from Handoub to intercept the Arab convoy. There was to be a meeting of shiekhs friendly to the British yesterday at Handoub. From Cairo we have again alarming statements as to the position of General Gordon at Khartoum. That city is, it is said, surrounded by Arab forces, and "the general opinion" is that Gordon can only be deliverd by British troops. How British troops are to get to Khartoum at all, and how, if that be possible, they are to arrive in time to save Gordon, is not stated. It should be observed that the reports of the General's dangerous position are without official confirmation.

The Spaniards threaten to regard as a violation of the law of nations the proposed entrance of French gendarmes into the territory of the little Republic of Andorra. The French have always exercised a kind of protectorate over the Republic.

The Cardinals assembled in the Vatican discussed yesterday the momentous question whether or not the Pope should leave the Eternal City. No decision was arrived at, but it is said that in any event Pope Leo will only act with the concurrence of the Powers. In that case it may be assumed that he will remain in Rome.

A Reuters's telegram from Rome says that the recent circular issued by the Propaganda relative to the transfer of its administration abroad makes no essential change in its system, as the places specified for the donations are the same as under previous arrangements. In future, when legacies are devised to the P[illegible] that institution will d[illegible] and when the funds are to be employed.

Mr Gladstone, who was somewhat better, but who has not yet recovered his voice, left Downing-street yesterday afternoon for Coombe, near Wimbledon, the residence of Mr. Currie, where he purposes to remain until Monday, when it is probable he will grant an interview to Mr. C. M. Palmer, M.P., on the subject of the Merchant Shipping Bill. The house which has been placed at the Premier's disposal is situated about a mile from Coombe and Malden Station, both on the South Western Railway. It stands in beautiful grounds, and is completely hidden from view until the visitor has reached the lodge-gates. A detective from Scotland-yard is on duty in the neighbourhood.

Questioned in the House of Commons yesterday as to whether it is true that our troops killed their wounded enemies at Teb and Tamai, Lord Hartington was obliged to reply that it was. He said in effect that the Arabs would neither give quarter nor accept it; that they were still dangerous when they were wounded; and that it was absolutely necessary, for the sake of our own men's lives, to despatch these Arabs in that condition. This is the explanation and defence of what we are afraid cannot be doubted now. To express regret at all this would probably be called Tory factiousness. We therefore say no more than that Lord Hartington's account of the matter seems to leave the atrocity-mongers of 1877 perfectly content, and that it is a pity the explanation had not to be made by the orator of Midlothian himself.

At Galway yesterday when the prisoners Tansey, Kennedy, Nolan, and Stanton, charged with the murder of William Mahon, gamekeeper, at Ballyforan, four and a half years ago, were brought up the Crown solicitor announced that Thomas Nolan, National School teacher, son of one of the prisoners, had turned informer, and he asked for a week's remand which was granted.

The Dublin Gazette announces that Ireland is now free from foot-and-mouth disease, the last of the animals affected, four in Dunshaughlin Union county Meath, having been slaughtered by order of the Lord Lieutenant on the 18th and 19th instant.

In a letter on the selection of candidates for Irish constituencies, Mr. Davitt says:—"Ireland is sure to be overrun with carpet-baggers from England at the next general election. They will declare themselves to be the most determined of Nationalists and the most ardent admirers of Mr. Parnell; and if the choice of the constituencies be not made known in season, there will be the danger of having some of these gentlemen thrust upon the Irish representation in the hurry and scramble of the general election. Not a day should be lost in the work of preparing for an event which should find the country in a position to make a clean sweep of its backsliding and inactive members and to return known and trusted Nationalists in their place."

In the House of Commons, at a morning sitting the Home Secretary announced that the final report of the Royal Commissioners on Accidents in Mines was being prepared, and he said it would be presented before the close of the session. He also stated that the draft of a bill to establish a Minister for Scotland was in print, and it might be introduced before Easter. Lord Hartington who was questioned as to the position of affairs in the Soudan, stated that no further information had been received, and that telegraphic communication had not been restored. The adjourned debate on the Cattle Diseases Bill was resumed by Mr. Kenny, and after speeches from Sir M. Hicks-Beach, Mr. Duckham, Mr. Ecroyd, Sir W. Barttelot, and other hon. members the bill was read a second time amidst cheers.. The Consolidated Fund Bill passed through Committee, and was reported to the House, and the sitting was suspended at seven o'clock. At the evening sitting, on the motion for going into Committee of Supply, Mr. Willis moved that the "legislative power of bishops in the House of Peers in Parliament is a great hindrance to the discharge of their spiritual functions, prejudicial to the commonwealth, and fit to be taken away by a bill." The motion was seconded by Mr. Agnew. The Home Secretary moved the previous question.

Sir R. Peel was yesterday elected for the borough of Huntingdon, in room of the present Lord Sandwich, by the extremely narrow majority of nine votes. There has been no contest in the borough since 1873, when the Conservatives had a majority of 158 votes. The result of yesterday's contest leaves the relative strength of parties in the House unchanged.

In the Ship Canal inquiry yesterday Mr James Plate, of Oldham, deposed to the favour in which the scheme was held in that town, and said he believed that a considerable portion of the requisite capital would be raised there. Mr Nicholls, a member of the Manchester Town Council, placed before the Committee the case of his own branch of commerce—the fruit and vegetable business,—and said the merchants were looking to the Canal to completely revolutionise the trade. Mr Robert Harrison, another Manchester fruit and vegetable merchant, and Mr Capper, secretary to the Market Produce Traders' Committee, also gave evidence in the same interest. During the examination of Mr Marshall Stevens, steamship agent at Liverpool and Garston, the noble Chairman showed a strong determination to keep the inquiry within reasonable bounds. The witness was asked to "give the Committee some information as to master porterage rates," whereupon the Duke of Richmond said they had had evidence over and over again on these points, and it was of no use going further into them. Counsel suggested to the witness's intimate acquaintance with the matter as a reason for questioning him in detail, but his Grace was peremptory, remarking that the Committee quite understood the nature of the charges.

THE SOUDAN CAMPAIGN.

GENERAL GORDON'S POSITION.

Suakim, Friday.

The Sheikh El Morgani and another Sheikh from Mecca have gone to-day to the British camp at Handoub to receive some sheikhs, formerly supporters of Osman Digma, but now friendly to the British. A large meeting is expected.

A soldier who was one of the few survivors of the Sinkat garrison arrived in Suakim on Thursday. The correspondent of the Standard writes:—

He was at the camp on the day of the fight, and was taken by Osman with the women into the hills. He did not witness the battle, though he saw the smoke and heard the noise of the firing. He says that Osman has not more than 200 men left with him, many of whom are wounded. The whole of the rest of his followers were either killed or have dispersed, but many of the sheikhs still remain with him, and avow continued faith in his pretensions. The women are very violent against Osman, and curse him as the slayer of their husbands and brothers. They say that our proceedings at El Teb show that it is not true that the English are bad, for we buried their dead, and did not destroy the stores of grain. The day before yesterday Osman gave the soldier a gun, and told him that he must fight if the English came. The man, a native of Suakim, agreed to do so, but took the first opportunity of making his escape. He says that it is a great pity we did not destroy the grain at Tokhar, as that has constituted Osman's chief source of supply, and has enabled him to maintain his position. Every day he sends parties of men to fetch rations from Tokhar. Osman moves his camp daily among the hills, so as to render it difficult for our cavalry to catch him. He says, however, that he will attack us if we attempt to move along the Berber road, even if he can only get seven men to follow him. In consequence of the information brought in by the fugitive soldier, the 10th Hussars will start early to-morrow morning, and will endeavour to intercept a convoy of forty camels expected by Osman Digma from Tokhar. They will take up their posts at a short distance from the battle-field. At the same hour General Stewart will execute a reconnaissance from Handoub as far as the second wells, fourteen miles away. Two guns go out from here to reinforce the garrison of Handoub to-morrow morning. Parties of men representing two tribes arrived at that camp to-day, and three more are expected to-morrow. It is expedient, therefore, to make a show of strength. The General is desirous that the cavalry should move about more freely over the country, and should push on as far as Sinkat, in order to impress the natives; but Mahmoud Ali, who is conducting the negotiations with the tribesmen, has begged that for a few days the cavalry may not be moved about, as he thinks the natives might take alarm, and might either move away into the hills or join Osman, believing that we intended to attack them.

KHARTOUM SURROUNDED.

RETREAT CUT OFF.

Suakin, March 21st

Telegraphing from Cairo last night the correspondent of the Daily News says:—"It is now certain that the retreat from Khartoum is cut off, and that the tribes have environed the town except where it is protected by the river. Three different tribes in swarms, led by the sheikhs and a Dervish, are pressing on with the intention of capturing the town. The general opinion and hope is that relief, if intended, must be afforded by British troops."

According to the Times correspondent, the wildest statements are made in Cairo regarding General Gordon, but they have no foundation. The last telegram from Berber reports that comparative quiet reigns there, but fears are entertained of an interruption of communication. The post-boat from Khartoum was late, but it was expected to reach there to-day.

The Daily Telegraph correspondent states that Gordon has a force of 5,000 men still in Khartoum, and he has constructed, and probably provisioned, a strong outwork outside the city. It is thought unlikely that he will be attacked at present, but the position becomes uncertain and critical. The absence of reports leads to rumours in Cairo of rebels having actually barred the river at the rapids below Khartoum, for which, probably, there is no real foundation.

A letter received at Madrid from Egypt, dated the 10th inst., states that the financial adviser of the Egyptian Government will probably propose to the Powers a reduction of 20 per cent. in the amount of damages awarded by the Alexandrian International Commission, adding that such a proposition, if made, is unlikely to be agreed to. This letter, which comes from a Spanish source, continues:—"The campaign in the Soudan, as undertaken by the English, will result in continuous disturbances, and England's constant indecision will have fatal consequences."

We have received the following communication from the War Office:—"From Major-General Sir G. Graham to the Secretary of State of War:—Suakin, 20th of March, 1884, 4 p.m., Reports received from Handuk that three sheikhs of the Samara and Amrar tribes, with 17 followers, have come in to-day. Mahmoud Alli Bey says more will come to-morrow, when the Holy Sheikh Morgani and brother are going out to Handuk. The percentage of sick in the whole force is below two."

THE CHECK AT THE BATTLE OF TAMANIEB.

Some further information is given with regard to the temporary retirement of the second brigade during the attack on Thursday last. The Times correspondent says the brigade rallied when abreast of the first brigade. All the men behaved as well as was possible in circumstances so exceptionally trying. The Black Watch (Royal Highlanders) when attacked in rear fought like devils; and the York and Lancaster men were broken through no fault of their own, but because, when the front face of the would-be-square was ordered to charge, the flank companies had not received a similar order, which left a gap, through which the enemy first effected an entrance, nearly causing the total annihilation of the naval brigade. Nothing will alter the impression of the soldiers, at all events of the second brigade, says the correspondent of the Daily News, in connection with the same question, that they have been victorious in spite of the mismanagement of their superiors. The state of mind of the Black Watch may be accurately stated as one of disgust. They have had a grievance since the beginning of the campaign. At El Teb they were expected to charge rifle pits in which the enemy was concealed. As this movement would cause great loss, the advance was made deliberately. For this the regiment is accused of sluggishness, or even worse, and the colonel was admonished on the subject by his superior officers. As if to enable them to retrieve the supposed loss of reputation, the Black Watch were placed in the position of honour and danger in the next battle, and when the order to double against the Arabs—thus, as it turned out, breaking the square—was given, they obeyed promptly, though, to quote the common expression, "We knew the order was foolish, and because we were put on our metal." The Black Watch found themselves charging at nothing, while the Arabs were pouring in between the wide gap left between the former and the 65th, who failed to keep pace with the 42nd. It was of no use to form a square if it was to rush at the enemy in fragments. To put it in the mildest possible form, the officers engaged in General Davis's brigade, especially those of the 42nd, feel extremely sore on the subject, while the detestation of the rank and file against the Soudan campaign is universal.

INSTANCES OF HEROISM.

The correspondent of the Daily Telegraph writes:—

I was eye-witness to scores of instances of heroism on the part of our troops, for I was present with the 2nd Brigade from first to last during the fighting, and afterwards galloped after and joined the 1st Brigade, entering Tamai with them. Whilst the Black Watch were retiring, hard pressed by the Arabs, a private rushed at one of the enemy, who was slashing right and left, and ran him through with a bayonet, doing it so violently that he thrust the point of his rifle into the savage's body, and had to drag the wounded man with him for some distance before he could extract the weapon. What occurred to section 1, company B, of the 42nd, will illustrate the terrible nature of the contest where the fight raged fiercest. Of 20 men who went into the first charge of our troops up to the edge of the nullah—the regiment was obeying orders—it would have been wiser and better had they felt their ground advancing steadily—but three escaped alive, and they were badly wounded One of the finest and strongest men in the Blatch Watch was with section 1, namely, big Jamie Adams, and he was pluckily backed by Colour-Sergeant Donald Fraser. Both men faced the rushing hordes of nearly naked Arabs, charging partly over the brink and down into the nullah. The battle was too fierce to permit of time to withdraw empty cartridges, let alone loaded rifles. These men and their comrades opposed steel with steel, fighting with all the physical power they possessed, which was vastly greater than the sinewy strength of the swart savages. The two Highlanders made over a dozen of their foemen bite the dust before they fell from loss of blood sustained by cuts from thrown spears. While they fought they used not only their rifles, the butts as well as the bayonets, but when the Arabs closed in hit out with their fists in the scramble. Another man of the same section, Private George Drummond, who came out alive with three wounds, whilst bayonetting an Arab was cut over the head by a horseman on a grey charger with one of those huge cross-hilted swords. Drummond's helmet and the swerving of the horse saved him. Though stunned, he rallied in a moment, and drove his bayonet through the Arab's body. Whilst tugging to get it out, another Arab rushed at him, spear in hand, but his fighting chum, Kelly, shot the savage. Poor Kelly was killed almost immediately afterwards, and Drummond had his work cut to get away. It has since transpired that the man on the grey charger was Osman Digna's cousin, Sheik Mahomed, and that the follower who rushed to his rescue was his steward or warkil. During last night the Arabs appear to have stolen in and carried the sheikh's body away among the dead, and buried them before morning, for to-day we found these new graves. This time we have not buried their dead, but left them stiff and stark all over the ridges and nullahs of Tamai. Over 1600 lie within an area of 200 yards. Others are scattered about in all directions. The flocks of vultures and jackals and hyænas will for some time feast to satiety on the remains.

PARIS LETTER.

(From our own Correspondent).

March 18.

Rinking is out, but fencing is in; since the doctors prescribe this form of the noble art of self-defence as superior to hipposulphites and cod-liver oil in the prevention, as well as the curative treatment of, tubercular consumption, foils are the order of the day. In young ladies' boarding schools they promise to eclipse back-boards and the use of the globes. And the fashion burns as feverishly with the future mothers of Gracchi as with the Empress of Austria and her nimbus of belles in waiting. Every Sunday morning M. Grevy has, in the palm house of the Elysee palace, a small and early party of fencibles; he and the ladies look on.

Beyond doubt fencing developes gracefulness and deportment; contributes to habits of active bodily strength and by bringing all the muscles into play, prevents sluggishness in the circulation of the blood, which tells on the expansion of the lungs. These effects are of self-evident importance to persons of weakly constitution and of sedentary habits. The science too corrects defects of temperament, by inducing habits of patience, discipline, and self-command. Enthusiasts claim, that fencing imparts an intellectual character to the features; less open to discussion is the assertion that it begets ease and elegance in the movements of the body. Actors, aye and actresses, and even orators, are frequenters of the fencing schools, to promote freedom of gesture and command in action—both of which ought to have for corollary, coolness in speech.

It is not quite certain where fencing originated. It is useless looking up the Romans on the point; true, they had eminent professors of the art to instruct the legions and the exhibit gladiators The terrible Marius, that giant, eight feet in height, and who rose to the purple, was one of these professors. His wife's bracelet served him for a thumb ring; he could drag a loaded waggon; with a blow of his fist, he shattered the teeth in a horse's head, and could break its leg with a kick. In appetite, he was Pantagruelic; 40 lbs. of meat per day, and without bone, all washed down with six gallons of wine. However, the Roman short-sword, 19 inches long, hewed and thrusted, but did not fence. The Germans invented the long, thin-pointed, and elastic sword, which had for aim, to find out the defective point in a coat of mail. Spain next modified the blade under Isabella, and from that date may be considered the birth of modern fencing. At first the Spanish fencers employed their mantle as a kind of buckler.

In the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries Italy became renowned for her fencing masters, till France, under Henri II, disputed the honor. Louis XIII elevated fencing to the rank of a national institution, and founded schools for training professors, who, after six years study were granted a diploma. England was not behind-hand, she adopted the rapier in the sixteenth century. But London had in the thirteenth century sword and buckler schools, and these pupils who made a snashing noise on their bucklers, received the reproachful title of "swash-bucklers." Henry the Eighth, a great lover of all manly exercises, encouraged that of the sword. Fencing was ever considered a gentlemanlike accomplishment; on the continent it undoubtedly contributed to keep bullies in their place, as the prospect of being called to account induces many a Bob Acres in advance, to feel his courage oozing out at his finger ends. Were it not in the power of French Colonels to order soldiers to settle their quarrels at the sword's point, under the direction of a master-at arms to thrust aside fatal strokes, discipline could never be maintained. It does duty for the "cat" in the French army.

In the ordinary duels, as well as in the schools, clubs, and private circles, the foil, a kind of small court-sword, is used. The French system is based on "defence," the Italian, on "attack." In the latter, the weapons cross up and down like broad swords, which thus leaves the chest exposed, and so at the mercy of an adversary possessing "sang froid." In French duels the aim is not to kill; pork-butchery being discountenanced. But mortal accidents do happen, for as Sainte-Beuve justly remarks, the most dangerous antagonist for a skilled fencer, is an adversary totally ignorant of the noble art of defence.

The literary world, as well as his political friends the dynamiters, persist in their efforts to obtain the liberation of Prince Kopotkine—the Philippe Egalite of Nihilism and Anarchy. The Prince wants simply to be let alone in his prison at Clairvaux, situated in the department of the Aube; he would like to have the run of half a dozen libraries. The government has offered to obtain all that is possible in the way of books for his studies. The climate of Clairvaux, a town situated 146 miles from Paris, very much resembles that of the capital's mild, humid and rainy, with hoar-frost cold. The scenery is very pretty, and the pine forests cannot be unhealthy. The department of the Aube is the centre of many industries; it exports annually an excellent common wine to Belgium and the north of France to the extent of 10,000 hogsheads. Its pork preparations—Troyes sausages are famous, and were held in esteem even by the Romans, and Reims biscuits are a necessity after Champagne.

EDITOR'S TABLE

Nobody went anywhere or did anything in particular on Sunday last, which was a most unpleasant day, neither raining nor letting it alone, till after dinner, when a fine, penetrating Scotch mist came down and soaked everybody going to the theatres. Yesterday, however, made up for Sunday's shortcomings: A finer Autumn day could not be had, for love, money, or manslaughter.

Our Packet Edition for the French mail steamer Senegale, on the 24th, will appear to-morrow morning.

We have to thank the agents and purser of the Lamport and Holt steamer Buffon for late papers from England. The news from the Soudan is of that kind known as "mixed-middling"—reassuring in a general sense, and bad about Khartoum. Osman Digna is played out; the women have taken to cursing him instead of praying for him, and the Arabs have had enough of British steel. Mr. Gladstone's, attack in the throat was rather a severe one, and kept him away from the House for ten days. He caught it by walking to his carriage, at Lady Hayter's drum, without his top-coat.

In consequence of the bad weather on Saturday and the general anticipation that the Races next day would be inevitably postponed, there was not a large attendance at the "remates" of "The Turf" held in the Bodega. The speculation was therefore restricted, but some changes in the betting were notable. The report that Madreselva had gone amiss gained ground and made her recede considerably in public favour, Consuelo and Santa Rita being now first and second favourite. In the Premio Producto, Pegaso also has lost his commanding position, and Mobican and Marius seem to command most support. "The Turf" will hold a grand remate to-morrow evening in the Bodega, at 8.30 p.m., and we have no doubt it will be largely attended.

The Pomona arrived yesterday morning from Bahia Blanca. She had such a terrible easterly gale to face on the way up that many of the passengers took to examining their consciences, and felt like laying long odds that they would never read the Standard again. However, ship, captain and crew behaved so splendidly that we were enabled to welcome them all, safe and sound, yesterday.

It rained invitations on us yesterday—for the Amicis Conference at the Colon Theatre, for Messrs Tallaferro and Sanchez's great auction at the "Manantiales" on Sunday next, and other entertainments, for which the senders have our blessing and most expressive thanks.

The whole town is grinning at the "Misterioso Crimen" invented by our demented countryman Mr Pat Boggan. The police have rarely been so outrageously "sold" before. Very little enquiry amongst the Irish community would have elicited the fact that poor Boggan is "non compos." It is really too much of a joke that a man's quinta can be torn up from end to end, at a moment's notice, to look for an imaginary corpse. Edwards, the corpse, is believed to have "sloped" to the United States with Boggan's cash.

Great preparations are being made in Montevideo for the Ball to be given by the English Bachelors in the Solis Theatre on the 24th inst. Invitations to the number of six hundred have been issued, and include all the fashionable society of the town. The full opera band under the able leadership of Signor Uguccioni has been engaged; and the supper arrangements have been entrusted to Maitre Pascal, of the Hotel de Paris. It is understood that the ball is given in honour of the families, and in acknowledgement of the hospitality, of the popular agents of the R.M.S. Co. and the P.S.N. Co. both of whom are about to leave the country; and general regret is expressed that the departure of H.M.S. Amethyst for Colonia will deprive the fete of the presence of many officers of the Royal Navy who would have wished to participate in the honour thus done to those who have so frequently entertained them. A Committee of Ladies has been formed to act as the nominal hostesses on the occasion, including in their number Mrs. Munro, Mrs. Jefferies, Mrs. Theobald and the Señoras de Roosen and Zumarán, the Court mourning preventing the Hon. Mrs. Monson from taking any part in the festivity. A correspondent informs us that one of the most active members of the Bachelors' Committee has not awaited the eventful evening to strike his colours, but has already manfully announced his intention of passing over to the majority and joining the noble army of Benedicts. May all his colleagues imitate his example!

The Shakespeare-Cervantes Committee met on Saturday night and named the following "Comision de Honor:—Padrino, Edmundo De Amicis, y los Sres. General Bartolome Mitre, Dres. Ricardo Gutierrez, Guillermo Rawson, Lucio V. Lopez, Juan Carlos Gomez, Bonifacio Lastro, Wilde, Del Valle, Navarro, Vicente Fidel Lopez, Hollmberg y Señores Groussac, Mandia, Ibarra, Carbajal, Oreiro, y Drobranich. Lest the work should prove too much for these gentlemen, there were added as to the Committee, all the editors in town; everyone who writes anything in the Album; the Presidents of all the English and Spanish societies in town; and a lot of other people too numerous to mention.

In spite of the very unfavourable weather on Saturday night last, a full audience assembled in the Colon Theatre at the concert and assault at arms for the benefit of the Damas de Beneficiencia's numerous charities. The programme was excellently gone through. Some of the fencing was admirable; the gymnastic exercises were excellent, and the music left nothing to be desired. The only fault of the night was that the performance was quite too long: One o'clock, on Sunday morning struck before it was over and the audience started for home, supper and bed.

Another duel was spoken of yesterday as about to come off with pistols, between two "conocidos." The police were supposed to be trying to prevent the meetings, but they are generally lamented ably unsuccessful in such attempts.

A solemn funeral mass will be celebrated on Thursday next at 10 a.m., in the Concepcion Church, for the late Mrs. Hannah Somers.

There was a terrific fire in Montevideo yesterday afternoon, resulting in the total destruction of the marine store of Mr. Baltar, in Calle 25 de Agosto. The damage is estimated at 50,000 patacons, and insured in the New York Company.

Dear Sirs,

I have much pleasure in stating that I cured all my flocks this season with the "Goldan Leaf Extract" and found the result highly satisfactory, and in future do not intend to use any other dip.

After first using the "Golden Leaf," I found it such a perfect cure for Scab that I recommended it to several of my neighbours who have all proved it equally good.

Yours truly

Cedulas E	89
Cedulas F	85½
National Bank Shares....	138½
National Bonds 5o/o.....	75

Although the favorable rumors of last Saturday were not confirmed to-day, a general belief is gaining ground that the news is plausible and may be corroborated at any moment; thus bankers, merchants and others view the financial out-look from a fresh standpoint. The advance to the National Government will remove much pressure off the market, and a firmer tendency may be expected in exchange. The money market continues in the same unchanged condition; the eyes of all are centred on the Provincial Bank Board; the restriction in the discounts of the Bank and the passive policy of the favorite Banks form a striking contrast to the liberality of the National Bank Board. Money in the market continues to be quoted at 7 to 7½, and on the Bolsa much higher.

The share market opened this morning with a dull feeling round the ring, and the current of speculation looked rather indefinite at the beginning. A few hundred shares changed hands for cash at 138 to 138½. About 1,000 were sold for the end of the month; the market opened at 138½ and closed firm at 138⅝. Speculation for the end of next month looked drooping and only 300 were sold at 140 firm. The stock is well held and the situation is one of firmness.

The Cedula market presented a thoroughly exhausted appearance this morning and the removal of the Bank to La Plata appears to have stifled all activity in the stock. Shipments of Cedulas to Paris continue to be the all-absorbing and favorite topic of the moment, but operations are at a stand-still. A few thousand Series E were sold for the end of the month at 89 and the market closed firm. A few thousand Series F changed hands for cash at 85⅝-¾.

The exchange market ruled very dull this morning; situation unchanged and no operations reported in sterling.

In shipping circles a change is rumored in the agency of two steamship companies, owing to the resignation of the agent in this city.

The Nord Deutscher Lloyd intend arranging for two direct steamers to Bahia Blanca from Bremen and four to Rosario. This will give a further spurt to affairs in the Liverpool of the South; the advance of Bahia Blanca is staggering, and the place will be quite as important as Rosario before another lustrum.

The following were the sales at the ring during official hours:—

Cedulas—
For cash E 3,000 at 89
For cash F 12,800 at 85⅝-¾
Sales, 13,100
National Bank Shares—
For cash 150 at 138-½-⅓
For April 30th 950 at 138½-⅓-⅝
For May 31st 300 at 140
Sales, 1,400
National Bonds, 1881, 5 o/o—
For cash 1,100 at 75

The following sales of stock are reported:—
1,000 cows in Juarez at 165 % 'al corte'.
1,000 cows in Dolores at 170 % do
2,000 novillos in Rojas at 300 %
500 novillos in 9 de Julio at 350 %
1,800 capones in Azul at 47 %
4,000 sheep 'al corte' in Bragado at 34 %

So-called special gold is reported in demand. Sovereigns at 3 o/o premium.

There was a very severe storm in Montevideo on Saturday, the waves in the Bay were mountains high, and the British schooner Eleonora was washed ashore in the gale. Crowds came down to the beach to see the doomed vessel, the captain and crew were rescued.

The s s. Britannia sailed from Rio on 19th, and the Cotopaxi from Valparaiso on the 16th. The Argentine steel corvette, La Argentina, sailed from Trieste on 19th.

The Government has concluded a contract with Creuse's agent here for the construction of two iron bridges, on the extension of the Northern railway, price $66,200.

Mr. W. E. Harvey, the popular manager of the new London and Brazilian Bank in Montevideo, leaves in the Maskelyne for England on a short trip. We hope to see him soon back as he has already secured a wide circle of friends in the Plate. During his absence Mr. Francis Drake, who has arrived down from Pernambuco will take charge as acting manager. The Maskelyne will leave crowded with passengers. Amongst those announced to sail from Montevideo are—

Mr. W. E. Harvey and family.
Mrs. McCrindle and family (wife of manager of River Plate Bank.)
Mrs. Byrne and family (wife of Mr Byrne of R. Huxham & Co.
We learn from Montevideo that Mr. and Mrs. Yarrow and family, will leave for Europe on 28th inst in Cotopaxi.
Mr. F. L. Humphreys and family and Mrs and the Misses Harratt leave for Europe in the La Plata on the 5th prox.
Mr. Frank Parish, President of the Great Southern Railway, and Madame Parish, Mr. Baker, Secretary, and Madame Baker and Mr. Coghlan, all leave this evening by special train for Bahia Blanca. The invitations for the inauguration were given round yesterday, the inaugural train will start on Thursday night. The event is one of the greatest in the history of this country and the wand of the goddess now points to Patagones.

The Chargeurs Reunis steamer Rio Negro sailed yesterday for Europe crowded with first class passengers most of whom are French wool buyers knows as artistes. We hope to see them all back in October.

It is rumoured that the English Bank has purchased a capital site in La Plata on which to establish a branch of the bank out there. We suppose all our other banks will have branches in the Provincial capital also.

This morning the train took out a quorum of Provincial Senators and Deputies to La Plata and we suppose a session was held there to-day, it is certainly about time.

President Roca is so occupied preparing for the opening of Congress that he is unable to attend the Bahia Blanca inagauration but he will make the trip down there later on.

The Maskelyne sails to-morrow. Mr. Musgrave who sails in her took leave of his friends on 'Change to day.

There has been a change made in the local board of Directors of the Buenos Aires Great Southern Railway. The new Board is constituted so:—

Chairman—Mr W H Moores
Director—Mr N Bouwer
Mr R J Neild
Mr J Coghlan.

The Buffon will be up in the morning. The Ilios will be here to-morrow; she sails on the 24th inst.

The news from Montevideo is all-important; the bankqueros there, in view of the result of the Antwerp auction 5 cents down on opening rates, have resolved to ship their wool on their own account to Antwerp and Havre, preferring to sell in Europe to realising at such low prices here. The stock of wool in Montevideo is very heavy, 500,000 @, and besides 3,000 bales ready for shipment.

Wools at the Once sold this morning at 80 per @, same estancia wools sold in January at 105. Various lots sold in Plaza Constitucion at from 20 to 25 % less than February prices. Nearly all the 'artistas' have gone home and consignatarios are compelled to sell to barraqueros and accept their prices. There are 500,000 @ of wool here in deposit, and at the South station the arrivals daily still average 10 to 15,000 @ of wools coming in from parts never before heard of. We hear that one consignee has in his deposits 110,000 @ unsold.

Exchange for Maskelyne was done to-day at 47½ and bills over at this rate, as Banks will not take any more at this rate: francs at 5 franc and 5.02. The Provincial Bank was the largest drawer for this mail. Some commercial paper done at 47½. A large business expected by the Senegale.

Mr. Ochoa's fine house in Calle Peru, we hear, has been rented by the Ladies of the Sainte Union Convent on the Flores Road for a branch college for that convent.

An exact statement of the whole of the wool clip 1883-84 is being prepared in those days by a leading French barraquero, his figures will be most interesting and tell us what the increase this year is over the previous clip.

Mr. Emil Schroeder, the popular and well known corralon broker, was welcomed back from his fortnight's trip to the Mount where he went for the benefit of his health; no revolutionary symptoms of any kind perceptible except, that excited by the flashing eyes of the Montevidean belles who "revolutionize" the hearts of the most inveterated bachelors, Mr S. declares the Montevidean belles the most charming South of the line, and has nearly lost his heart.

The value declared by shippers of the Cedulas, shipped per Galicia is £306,400 stg.; this is a figure that will interest the speculative circle at the ring. This is the first shipment of stock by these steamers and it speaks for the great activity of the agents here.

Exchange on Montevideo reported done at 2½ o/o premium.

During afternoon 800 shares were sold for the end of the month at 138¾; the market closed with buyers at this rate and at 140¼ for the end of May. About 50,000 Cedulas E were sold for the end of the month at 89¼; market closing with many strong buyers at this rate. Buyers of Cedulas F at 85⅝.

Mr J. Lawrie, of Los Sajones, sold to-day 1200 squares of his fine estancia at the high figure of 1125 % per square.

A fair business is doing outside in the sale of cattle "al corte," at 165 to 170 %. Novillos are selling at $280 % — minimum price.

Freights rule very dull—12½ all round per bale. Small sailing vessels in demand for saladero produce.

Holders of property in the province of Cordoba are notified that Contribucion Directa tax is payable up to the 30th inst. Mr. Acosta is the Government agent and will supply all details in connection with the tax.

The Platense steamer Pomona arrived to-day from the far South; she left Patagones in the morning of the 15th, crossed the Rio Negro bar with facility, but met with strong head-winds outside; she arrived in Bahia Blanca on the 17th, where she remained until the 18th. The passage from Bahia Blanca to this port was very stormy; a storm of terrible force burst at Cape Corrientes, and the fury of the East gale threatened to blow the steamer ashore; the gale veered to the South East and the fine steamer skipped along at the rate of 14 knots per hour until the morning of the 20th, when Cape San Antonio was sighted. The Pomona has arrived crowded with passengers; we note the following:—

Mrs M Tolibessi, Mr F Biedma, S Estrada, C Campos, M Yañez, A Pita, son of the Viedma J.P., J Tobal, E Sifredi, Marcelino Gonsalez, D Gonsalez, S Blasco, J Tallon, A Reyes, N Coutin, M Ramirez, D Martinevitch, M Manuffi, W F Mulhall, C B Downing, R Labal, Comisario of the gunboat Constitucion, Mr and Mrs Guillermet, J Padilla, A Ramirez, C Terreira, J Lapacho, P Yaucanal, J Gonsalez, Jam and Nurat, H Pontis, D Lopez, M Torres, J Sheg, J Bartholé, E Paso, M Tarelo, J Saso, S Cabanillas, A Capoto, J Matteo, Julio Herbage, G Viter, A Villemot, J and M Scotti, J Penado.

Mr. Galbisso, the well-knewn Rio Negro pilot, who knows every pebble in the bed of the river from the ocean to the foot of the Andes, has arrived in the Pomona from Patagones.

Late telegrams from London quote Hard Dollars at 93 and 94 o/o. Such a splendid quotation shews the high and rising credit of the country in the great money market of the world. The gradual advance of the Hard Dollar Bonds compares favourably with the rise in other Argentine stocks. Public Works and Riestra Bonds are quoted at par, and 9 o/o Treasury Bills at 105 and 108.

The Antwerp wool auction, 17th; about 20,000 bales were opened on the public. Prices of the week were offered to the decline of 5 centimes, opening day shewed a ing rates of last February's auction. One thousand bales were placed the first day.

Some few years ago we stated that the number of pianos in one of our towns was evidence of its prosperity and advancement, but, like our views about the 'rancho', they were laughed at. We note, however, a change round now, and as the schooner Monte Leon takes down two pianos to Chupat, a colleague hails it as a sign of the prosperity of the Welshmen; there are 12 pianos in the Chupat colony; we doubt if there are more than this even in the old town of Patagones. We may also remind our colleague, Tribuna Nacional, that there are 200 pianos in the bottom of the Bay of San Blas, and we believe they belong to some party in B. Aires who bought the wreck.

Messrs. Reboredo & Co. have obtained the Proveeduria contract for the fleet for the present year; a most important contract.

The time for paying the Contribucion Directa Tax in the Province of B Aires has most properly been extended to 30th June. Estancieros take notice.

Letters from Cordoba state that the arrival of freight trains laden with splendid sugar mill machinery for Tucuman and Santiago del Estero is now an every day event, and that even the Cordoveses are astonished at the quantity of machinery going up for new sugar mills to those Provinces. It is rather a good sign for the country, and as the season has proved favorable for the cane, the probability is that this year our sugar crop will be the greatest ever known in the River Plate.

We learn on good authority that there are now 150,000 sheep on the camps of the Venado Tuerto, and that the sheep are all doing splendidly, they belong for the most part to small farmers who own only one or two flocks, but who are also the owners of the land on which the sheep feed, the best of all classes of sheepfarmers in this country.

Sr. Chavarria's note to the Minister of the Interior on the very difficult question of connecting the houses in the city with the public sewers is the talk of the whole market, and the public is anxious to see Dr. Irigoyen's reply. It appears that

EDITOR'S TABLE.

Colonel Solano has just met with an accident in Montevideo, which, as the papers of that city say, might well have cost him his life. At the corner of a square, whilst in the act of crossing, he was severely hurt by a heavy wooden beam in a passing cart coming into contact with his head, and unluckily on that very part of his face on which he had received a wound in the Paraguayan War. One of his teeth was broken. It is not stated whether negligence on the part of the driver or in the loading of the cart was the cause of this lamentable occurrence.

The Commission of the City Improvement Works has passed a note to the Lord Mayor, requesting him not to make any contract for changing the pavement in the streets where these works are necessary. This is a reply to the Lord Mayor's request to have the work of laying the pipes in Calle Cuyo immediately. A trial square of wooden pavement is to be laid down in this street, and his Lordship wishes to avoid the necessity of having it taken up to place the pipes and then relaid. However, as the Commission, unlike Barkes, 'is n't willin' his Lordship must perforce await its convenience.

The latest fashionable intelligence is the record of the brilliant reunion at the nuptials of Miss Carmen del Molino Torres and Mr. Calixto Oyuela, the poet, celebrated on Saturday night. It would take a deal of space to name all those present or to describe the magnificent and costly offerings that were made to the happy couple. We can only wish them everlasting happiness.

We received the following yesterday :—

DECLINE OF BRITISH MANLINESS.

To the Editor Standard.

Dear Sir.

It is well known that, as old Nations decay, new ones grow up in grace and vigour, and a notable sign of this is in the cultivation here of the "manly and intellectual sport" of pigeon-shooting, so highly commended by the Southern Cross and to which you call special attention in your paper of 19th.

Now in England they have discountenanced this manly and intellectual sport ! but long may it flourish here to trace the minds and bodies of this great, great Nation and as some set off against such namby-pamby sentimentality as the S. F. P. C. C. T. A.

We shall expect shortly to see advocated the "Tourney" of Cock and Bull.

A Roman watchmaker named Nardone has written to the Municipality offering to put up electric clocks of his invention in every street of this city. These clocks mark the hour simultaneously, to the hundredth part of a second, and show the name of the street and day of the month, all by an automatic process. These clocks can also be used as street lamps. We hope Mr Nardone's offer will be accepted. The public clocks of this city keep their own time, and they all differ as to the correct time of day, so the electric clocks would be an immense boon.

Mr Arata, the City Analyst, deserves well of his country, and a present of a four-league estancia would inadequately repay all the good he is doing by exposing those traders who sell adulterated food to the public. He still keeps 'pounding away.' He has just published a list of seventeen confiteros and liquor makers who colour their cakes, caramelos, etc., with fuchine, analine and other poisons. The public should cut out and keep the list of these unscrupulous traders and never enter their shops ; but the fact of the matter is that our population seem to care nothing about being slowly poisoned.

The Minister of the Interior has received a note from the Arg. Minister to the United States, Sr. Dominguez, informing him that the 12 locomotives for the Andine Railway have been already dispatched in the American barques Wilsa and MacManemy.

Sad fate of Anita. Anita was a swell cutter and recently made an expedition to the Banda Oriental under the care of some members of the Marina Regatta Club, but after this poor Anita was dashed to pieces against the Catalinas mole, in a high wind. The Anita is no more.

"Is this a fair," said a stranger, stopping in front of a place where a festival was in progress and addressing a citizen. "Well," replied the citizen, "they call it fair ; but they take everything in."
